

The Mobile Magnet Wall is a unique platform for expanding creative play in your classroom, hallway, lobby, library or large motor space. We've made it portable so you can create an interactive play space wherever you wish! Examine slope, cause & effect, momentum and gravity through hands on experimentation! Very few products on the market offer a vertical play space that challenges children to deal with gravity in this way. Children arrange the rings and ramps as they wish to create vertical drop. Depending on the material of choice: balls, cars, spools, or other objects, your kids will learn how much slope is needed to move the material down the ramp, through a tunnel or over a bridge. Perfect for supporting STEAM discoveries with toddlers through school-age children! The Mobile Magnet wall can be used on both sides, making it a great value for your classroom and an efficient use of space! Without a ball catcher on the backside, children can get up close with accessories such as our Knock Knock Blocks, Wooden Gears, Words and Symbols, and Maker Magnets. The brace bar on the backside can also serve as a divider between play spaces for different age groups, or as a guide to line-up items for sequential thought processing.
